“ If you would’ve told me five years ago, I would’ve been working for my dad’s best friend and getting chewed out by him half the time 😂 I would’ve told you you were crazy after I got laid off from U-Haul. No one would even sniff in my direction for a job. Joey open the stagehand door for me and it’s been one hell of a ride ever since. He was more than just a family friend to the Solis for almost 50 years. He was a mentor, teacher, and like another Tio. We miss you Jefe. 🐶

“ I have known Joey since I was a kid, he was a close friend of my dad. When my dad passed Joey continued to be a great friend to my whole family and always checked on me like an older brother or a really good uncle would do. When I got locked up in bexar co jail 10 years ago I talked to Joey almost everyday on the phone. He always answered and even when he was busy he'd just tell me what time to call him back. The night i got out it was like 12:30am, I walked to the bail bond that joey told me to go to if I got released. As soon as I walked in the lady at the desk was calling joe and then he answered and she handed me the phone. I was confused so I was just like "hello?" And Joey just said "alright you're out, just hang out there and I'll pick you up in about 35 minutes". I cant think of anyone else that I've ever known in my life that would have done that for me at that time of my life it was a very low point for me but Joey was the only one that understood and cared enough to guide me through the legal process even when my lawyer was failing joey introduced me to a much better one. Im always going to be thankful for having the opportunity to know Joey and have him as a friend, he knew how to actually be a friend. He was a great man that changed lives and took care of all those that he took under his wing and he was an entire community all on his own. Im so sorry that He's gone so soon and my complete and heartfelt condolences to his family and loved ones. I really regret and wish I had been around more the last few years but we never realize the time flying by until its already gone. Much love to all, Joey will be missed and remembered for his legacy lives on.
