“ Aries you are my one true love. We always considered each other husbands even though we were not officially married. In our eyes we were. We were inseparable even to the end. I love you so much and do not know what i will do without you by my side. You always had fun no matter what or where you were. I will miss you coming up behind me to hug me. I am thankful for the 7 years you were in my life. I am so sorry if I let you down. I would give anything to have you back. You so loved to dance and now hopefully you are dancing in heaven. You will be my one and only love. One day we will be together again. There is much more i want to say to you. I only hope you know how much I cared and loved you. Love, Danny “ Litto was not only a husband, son, brother, uncle, godfather and friend to many, he was my “unconditional “. I was lucky enough to not only call him cousin but best friend. His love for music and dance was what first started our unconditional love for each other, where there was music we would be dancing no matter if anyone was dancing, we danced like no one was watching but everyone watched Litto dance, he had an aura that exploded with happiness every time he heard “his song” and that traveled to everyone around him. He never met a person he didn’t like and always said the more the merrier. Our bond was funny thou cause even when we were at our worst, he was still their unconditionally with those words. I Love You B@@@h we were never a lovey dovey family so that was our term of endearment and man how he always knew when I needed to hear it. We all have different sides of Litto that we will remember but hopefully everyone will remember, he loved his family and partner more than life itself. He was so proud of nieces and nephews and the love he had for his partner, mother, father, sisters and brother was unconditional. He’s dancing in the heavens now watching us like the angel he was when he was here with us. Love You My Unconditional.
