

Jose Pedro Villarreal

February 24, 1955 - September 19, 2024

It is with a heavy heart that we announce the passing of our beloved father Jose Pedro Villarreal-Villarreal, who left this world on September 19, 2024, at University Hospital in San Antonio, Texas. He was 69 years old.

Born on February 24, 1955, in Allende Coahuila, Jose lived a life filled with joy, love, and laughter. As a proud resident of San Antonio, his home echoed with his favorite music and the sounds of shared happiness. Known as the life of the party, Jose could always be counted on to crack a joke or sing along to a beloved song. His infectious love for music and humor brightened every gathering, especially when he took the mic for karaoke.

Jose was a skilled welder and shop foreman, a true craftsman in his trade. He enjoyed the simple pleasures of life, such as fishing, visiting casinos, and, most importantly, spending time with his family and loved ones. He always brought joy into the lives of those he held dear, and his absence will be deeply felt.

Jose was welcomed into the arms of the Lord, preceded in death by his parents, Pedro G. Villarreal and Benita Villarreal, and his sister, Maria Francisca Gonzalez.

Jose leaves behind his loving wife of over fifty years, Amalia Cruz Villarreal, who was his unwavering support and partner through every stage of life. He also leaves his children: daughters Sandra Quintana (Louis Quintana), Monica Villarreal (John Guzman), and Sonia Mendoza; and son Jose Pedro Villarreal Jr. (Andrea Villarreal).

Jose was blessed with twelve grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren, a testament to the love and joy he brought into the world. Jose's grandchildren are Brittny Nicole Quintana (James Arocha), Savannah Rae Guzman, Juston Isaiah Alexander, Amalia Roze Alexander, Klarissa Breann Flores (JB Alexander Flores), Ethan Louis Quintana, Jonathan Ray Guzman, Aiden Nicholas Villarreal, Sebastian Gage Villarreal, Jaydyn Ray Guzman, Addison Bree Villarreal, and Summer Rae Guzman. His great-grandchildren are Malania Nicole Arocha, Malena Nichole Arocha, Penelope Roselyn Alexander, Jussiah Walker Alexander, Maleah Nicolle Arocha, Kingston Isaiah Alexander, Athena May Quintana, Kailo Jay Alexander, and the late Lilah Roselyn Alexander, who greeted him in heaven. His legacy lives on in each of them, and his memory will continue to inspire and guide them.

Jose is also survived by his loving sisters Maria Elena Villarreal, Maria Benita Diaz (Ruben Nava), Maria Dora Elia Aguilera (Hector Aguilera), Maria Guadalupe Sanchez (the late Ramon Sanchez), and his brothers Jose Angel Gonzalez (Diana Gonzalez), Jose Luis Gonzalez (Maria Luisa Gonzalez), and Jose Alfonso Villarreal (Frances Villarreal). In addition to his siblings, Jose leaves behind many cherished aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, and cousins, all of whom were touched by his warmth and love.

His laughter, love for music, and joyful presence will be deeply missed by everyone who knew him. Though our hearts are heavy with grief, we take comfort in knowing that Jose is now serenading the angels and keeping the heavens filled with laughter.

Rest in peace, Jose Pedro Villarreal-Villarreal. You will forever be remembered for your love, jokes, and the light you brought to everyone who knew you.

“ Daddy,

What I wouldn't do to still have you here. Sometimes, I wake up in the morning and say to myself, "I hope this was just a nightmare." But then reality sets in, and I know I'm living the nightmare. I've asked why so many times, but I know I'll never have the answer.

I question how I will continue to go on as I did when you were here with us. You were my rock, my guide, and my source of strength. Without you, everything feels different, and I struggle to find my way.

But I promise you, Daddy, that I will try my best to carry on, to honor your memory, and to make you proud. I hold onto the moments we shared, the lessons you taught me, and the love you gave me. They are the pieces of you that will forever live in my heart.

I miss you more than words can say and I love you always.

*With all my heart,
Sandra Quintana*

“ Grandpa, I held off on writing this for as long as I could. Waking up and not seeing you by my side breaks my heart in ways I never thought possible. While you were in the hospital, I found myself texting your phone every day, pouring out my feelings in a desperate attempt to reach you. I confessed the depth of my selfishness, how desperately I wanted to keep you with us, to turn back the hands of time and have you here just a little longer.

As your eldest grandchild, I feel the weight of our family traditions resting on my shoulders now. I know that things will be different without your guiding presence, but I am determined to carry on the legacy you built. In your final days, you told me how proud you were of me. I wish those words had been recorded, so I could play them back on the hardest days. As it is, they echo through my mind, a bittersweet reminder of your love.

I will cherish those words, hold them close to my heart, and strive to make them true every day. I will continue to make you proud, to live in a way that honors your memory and the values you instilled in me. Even though you are no longer here in body, I will feel your spirit guiding me, urging me on.

Most of all, I want you to know that I will love you always. Death may have taken you from us, but it will never take away the love we shared, the memories we created, or the impact you had on my life. You will live on in my heart, in every action I take, in every decision I make. I will carry you with me always, keeping your memory alive.

So tomorrow saying goodbye to the man who was such a huge part of my life, I want to say thank you. Thank you for the time we had, for the lessons you taught me, for the unwavering support and unconditional love you always provided. I am the person I am today because of you, and for that, I will be eternally grateful.

Rest in peace, Grandpapi. I will see you again someday. Until then, know that you will never be forgotten. Your memory will be a blessing, and your love will live on in me.

“ I’m still at a loss of words on the passing of my Uncle Pete. I know that whatever I say/write I will never be able to fully convey the magnitude of a man who was larger than life. He was a beloved son, husband, father, grandfather, son/brother-in-law, and uncle who enjoyed living life to the fullest. He was a truly remarkable man who brought life into every gathering. Family events without him will never be the same, as he filled every moment with laughter. We will celebrate his spirit and always remember the countless laughs we shared. You will be deeply missed but never forgotten. I love you Uncle Pete

“ I remember when I was young uncle Pete had a poney out at his in-laws ranch and decided to give the kids a ride. He kept bugging me to get on and I didn't want to because I was scared. He finally convinced me and when I got on he did something to that poney that it took off running with me on it. I ended up jumping off and landed on a cactus bush and when I turned to Uncle Pete he was holding his stomach of how much he was laughing. I always remember that and that's part of why I'm scared of getting on horses lol
Miss you very much already.
