“ I met Aunt Jay approximately in 1989. She was a sweet and gentle soul with much wisdom and a great instinct of character in others. She shared wonderful stories of life in her years. Some of hardships and others of happiness. A true and loyal friend to Aunt Stella. They both shared a great sense of humor of their own. Perfect timing. Aunt Jay loved good food and I especially enjoyed bringing her all that she loved. She would click her little feet together as she took a bite and tell me that I always knew how to make an old woman happy. A second aunt to Aunt Stella 's nieces and nephews. She knew most of them since they were toddlers. She loved us all like we were hers. I have greatly missed her and Aunt Stella. They loved their dogs as much as us. Always thinking of others. God bless them both.
