Anyone that knew mom Lena J. Berry knew they had a forever friend, no strings attached, her beautiful smile and laughter were contagious. She also has a special talent that when you met her she always brought the best out of people. She was always that ray of sunshine in this hard world. She had an amazing strength beyond measure. She was the most caring, loving mother not only to her 5 children also to the many that called her mom. All that met her had a unique bond forever. She was always there for any and every one. She also was an animal lover and had a dream to one day have enough land to be able to love, rescue and protect any animal that needed it. She had many fur babies in her lifetime, they were all spoiled rotten with love. If only we can be half as caring as she was. She was loved by many and will truly be missed by all.
