

Linda Kay Walker

March 1, 1944 - July 15, 2020

In the early morning hours of July 15, 2020, Linda Kay Walker age 76, of San Antonio, Texas was called home to heaven.

Kay was born on March 1, 1944 to Franklin and Virginia Walker. During her first year of life, Kay was stricken with polio, which left her right leg paralyzed. She endured much pain and difficulty because of this but never let it hinder her from enjoying life.

Kay was a creative and generous person who loved history, traveling, and spending time with her family.

In her late 30's, Kay accepted Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior. It was her reliance on him that gave her amazing strength and brought her much joy.

Kay was preceded in death by her parents, Franklin Walker and Virginia Schlein Walker. She is survived by her brothers Franklin and Donald Walker, sisters –in-love, nieces, nephews, great-nieces, and great nephews.

Due to COVID-19, the family has decided public services will not be held. In lieu flowers, donation may be made to Samaritan's Purse or Second Baptist Church of Houston.

Her family rejoices that she is now dancing with Jesus, as that is what she always longed for.

Tribute Wall

PM

“ Kay was one of the sweetest, caring and kindest person I knew. She was never without a smile and ready to pray with you and encourage you. I loved the many years we shared in Bible Study Fellowship and listening to her prayers. Kay no longer has to walk with crutches.

Pam Mitchell - March 03, 2021 at 12:28 PM

ES

“ I just learned of Kay's eternal graduation yesterday. What a precious friend & prayer warrior. Thank you, Ginny Long and Theresa Kellum for notifying me of Kay's passing. I put a tribute to her on Facebook this AM. 🥹🙏💜 now dancing with Lord Jesus elizabeth stevenson. - March 03, 2021 at 09:39 AM

 Brent Oswald

“ I just learned of Kay's passing. I was wondering why I hadn't heard back in email that I had written to her. Thinking of her and her mother all the time, as I continue pursuing genealogy with a huge collection of books that her mother and my uncle Fr Ray Wilhelm had amassed.
Brent Oswald (buzzboy@gmail.com)

Brent Oswald - October 20, 2020 at 02:40 PM

LM

“ I met Kay in an airport and was convinced she was an angel, sent to me during a difficult time in my life. She was my lighthouse for years, and an inspiration. She will be missed.

Luann Martinez - September 13, 2020 at 11:18 AM

“ Dear Family,

So many memories are coming to mind when I think of times spent with Kay in San Antonio, in Houston, and in New Orleans. Three years ago we saw each other at the memorial service in San Antonio for our mutual dear friend, Margaret. After the service, we visited and reminisced a bit over our college days and the grumpy professors we had, in our chemistry class. We touched base later on and made plans for lunch in Marble Falls, a half-way point for her drive from S.A. and mine from Belton. Unfortunately, due to bad weather, we had to cancel. Kay spoke of her relatives in Boerne whom she often visited. My son and his wife and baby girl also live in Boerne and Kay and I talked of meeting there. We tried to coordinate another day to meet, but the passing days and months led up to the current virus outbreak. I will remember Kay as very special ... so sweet, smart, courageous, adventurous, and optimistic. I am so blessed to have been her friend. My sympathies go out to all of her family and friends who loved her very much and will miss her greatly. I am rejoicing with all of you that she is in dancing with Jesus in Heaven now. That assurance is making me smile.

*Sincerely,
Carole Covington*

Carole M Covington - July 27, 2020 at 07:04 PM

BS

“ I have known Kay for forty years she was my co-worker and my friend. She pushed me to L&D when my water broke at work she was on one crutch she would take a step and push me a step that was 37 years ago. We have had a lot of ups and downs since then. I am going to miss our long talks about everything from our beliefs in God to our disagreements over politics we often laugh about canceling each other vote out. She was my friend and I will miss her so very much and I am so very proud to have known her. To her family and friends it's okay to be sad but that she is truly dancing with Jesus. 🥹🌹🙏🙏

Bobbie Scott - July 22, 2020 at 08:44 PM