“ And one day, with no warning, there will come a day that you will never hear my voice again, and when that day comes, I want you to know something.
You were enough
You did enough
You said enough
And I knew everyday that you loved me

“ My grandma gosh I miss you so much already makes me feel like I have been neglecting you because I haven't been able to see you. I will cherish the memories I hold in my heart and will keep repeating them so we will be close. My heart hurts in the flesh but spiritually I am praising Jesus because you are in His presence. One memories will stick is when Bekka would always take pictures of you, you told her to stop waisting her film. Gosh you were old school and so knowledgeable. Thank you for loving me and for being the greatest grandma. I could go on forever bit know I miss you something terrible.

“ *I always called you Mom and I shall still.
You were always grand lady. And we're kind and loving to all. We know you had salvation and walked with Jesus all the way home. We cherish the love you instilled in our hearts, and we shall let it live through us to celebrate your life. We know all is well with your soul as you sing with the angels and enjoy being with loved ones who are there with you... We know you do not want us to be sad, it let your smile and love shine through us as a loving light to share with others, and praise Jesus for giving us the joy of celebrating your life... amen*
