Married to Earl Daniels one week after the beginning of the Second World War, she endured three years of her husband's overseas service through her own work supporting the arsenal for democracy. She was a dedicated housewife and mother, as well as an extraordinary cook with an expertise in Cajun cuisine with recipes published in the Junior League Cook book "Flavors". She successfully battled cancer and became an active counselor and supporter of cancer patients and groups of the American Cancer Society, as well as a member of the Methodist Hospital Bluebirds. She had a broad range of friends and social interest, and was an avid reader. Her primary focus and passion was for her family, her husband, sons and granddaughter. She will be laid to rest next to her husband Earl at Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery at 10:30 AM, Friday, August 29, 2008.
