

Margie Keller Korus

January 11, 1929 - January 19, 2016

Margie Keller Korus was born on January 11, 1929 and went to be with the Lord on Tuesday, January 19th 2016, and we are here today to honor her life, her legacy. Like many others, she experienced hardships growing up during the Great Depression and this played a large role in making her the strong-willed woman we all admired. Margie Keller was a thoughtful and giving person with a kind heart who devoted much of her time to helping care for families and their children.

She married Edmond John Korus and was a loving mother who raised 3 daughters, Mary Ann Korus, Shirley Vanderbilt, and Diane Von Ness. She loved to read, draw, and even took upon the task of growing her own garden. Her home always smelled of freshly cooked food, and laughter would drift through the air as her grandchildren ran about. She played tea, she braved Scrabble, she was the grandmother who had the imagination and excitement of that of her grandchildren.

Margie is survived by her daughters Mary Ann, Shirley, Diane; her grandchildren: Sara and Dusty Vanderbilt, and Ryan and Kate Von Ness, her brother Rev. Victor Keller and his wife Jean, and sister-in-law, Luverne Keller, along with her numerous nieces, nephews, and friends.

She spent 86 years on this Earth, and with it impacted the lives of many people. She will not be forgotten, but deeply missed and often remembered as the strong, lively woman who always put others before herself and who was there whenever needed.

As Mitch Albom said, "Death ends a life, not a relationship." Margie may not be on this Earth anymore, but that does not mean she isn't in our hearts.
