“ My Tia Mary, I just found out, too late, that you left our planet. I love you, my Tia. You were always the best example of love, beauty, patience, wisdom and so much more. You were a saint even before you left us! I will never forget I called you to ask how to make cake frosting. You lead me through the steps over the phone, as I was home alone. You offered to walk over from your house on Valencia over to our house on Athel. I told you no, that it was ok, as I took your directions over the phone. I also remember being embarrassed I had to wear glasses and you wanted me to wear my glasses. You told me how good I looked with them, even though I would not wear them. You were always good to me, my brother, sister, and my parents. My parents loved you, always. My Mom always spoke to us about loving you and Tio Jimmy. You were the epitome of goodness, love and forgiveness. I remember everything about you...your cooking, your expressions, your voice, your mannerisms, your home on Valencia, your beautiful self. I loved all your kids, my cousins. I hope that on the other side you run into my parents and can catch up. I am so sorry we did not keep up with you after we moved away from the neighborhood. I don't really know why. I guess it was just life and we move on and lose touch. But I will never forget you and Tio Jimmy. Love you, love you, love you!
