

Marjorie Fay Tucker

December 31, 1931 - November 18, 2004

Tucker

Marjorie Fay Tucker, Margie, as we all knew her, 73; beloved wife and mother, passed away Monday, November 22, at Wilford Hall Medical Center in San Antonio. Margie came into this world, a smiling baby girl on December 31, 1931 at Georgetown, Texas. Margie attended several schools in TX and graduated in Corpus Christi. She and her husband of 53 years were married there in 1951. Bernard Tucker as family and friends know him, was in the Navy and later the Air Force, so Margie lived many different places. They have lived in the San Antonio area for many years now. Margie was also a long time employee of the state of Texas. Her son, her parents, and a brother preceded her in death. They will welcome her home. She leaves behind her husband, Tucker, who she has loved these many years as she did her sons, James, of Kingsbury, TX and Dennis, of Bandera, a sister, Evelyn, of Aransas Pass, TX, and Betty, of Libby, Montana and numerous nieces and nephews. We will miss her more than words can say. See you, Margie

“ So sorry I could not be there in person but I was there in spirit. And you know that already. We know also you were sad to leave your loved ones here but was joyful to see those gone before. Memories of love, Betty

“ I can not possibly express the love I had and will always have for my Aunt Margie. I always enjoyed spending time with her, and can remember as a young child being so excited when she came to visit, and cherishing every moment with her. I will truly miss
