“ My grandmother. A fighter, a lover. That’s what I see when I look into her eyes. I can’t name a favorite moment with her because every moment with her was just so much fun. Maybe it was that time you sang “Gloria” as loud as you could in the silliest voice. You had my friend and I cracking up. Your energy was always so big, even when it came close to the end. You had everyone laughing and smiling. That is the grandma I’m going to remember and cherish in my heart forever. I love you so much grandma. I’m so happy you get to see grandpa in heaven. I was truly blessed to have you in my life. Thank you for everything. Rest easy.

“ I’m so very sorry and wish I and mom could be there.
We are praying for your strength and comfort at this time.
My last favorite memory of aunt Mary was when mom, myself, one of my four girls and I believe aunt Sandra went by her house for a visit and she made my daughter and I a sandwich and mom and Sandra coffee. Although everyone was talking in Spanish drinking coffee in the living room just laughing it up, I and my daughter sat enjoying our food and joined in on the laughter, (even though neither of us knew what they were saying) the laughter was contagious!

When I think of aunt Mary I think of her contagious happy spirit and smile and as a tribute to her I will smile more around people I see each day.

We will miss you and will count the days until we can see you again.
Rest high upon that mountain, your work on earth is done. Please say hi to my dad and give him a hug for me.

Love to all of you.
