“ I miss you so much, Logan. There was a of much more I had to learn from you and adventures to be had. I know though now, you’re not limited by a physical vessel and are with your wife, daughters, family, and all your friends- guiding, protecting, loving (and probably laughing 😂) at us. Thank you for blessing me with your time and letting me be a PS rut of your chosen family. I miss you all the time and think about you constantly. I will always admire how no matter what you were going through you were always the first person to show up when in need for anyone in anyway. I always will keep your memory alive as I know your spirit and essence live on forever. I’m just missing you a lot, and hope you know how positively impactful you were in my life. I can’t wait to see you again. I hope you’ve heard me play “Blue Bayou” in your honor... As you were In my phone contacts, will you continue to always be, “Not My Dad But Would Be Cool If You Were” I love you, always praying for you and your family (including the squad of course) xoxoxo

“ We are so very sad to hear about Logan’s passing. It’s been thirty+ years but I will always remember an adorable blonde boy who explored grapefruit orchards out on Ware rd and with our Chris. It was a blessing for the Maples family to be your neighbors, and your friends. Our heartfelt condolences to all your family Lil. We send our love and will continue to hold all of you in our prayers.

*Blessings,
Darrell, Ami, Chris, and Stephe*

“ Logan and I met in high school. We shared a last name and instantly became friends because of that. We would always greet each other by saying “WILSON!” really loudly to each other and then smile. I recently thought of him when my boys graduated high school this past May and told them about my own graduation. Logan and I sat next to each other~ Wilson and Wilson. There were over 600 kids graduating that day. Obviously, we were in the back rows due to our names. When we first sat down there was a cheery and emphatic “WILSON!” As the ceremony dragged on, our “Wilson” got less cheery and more dragged out with boredom. Something like “wiiiiillsssoon” with some eye rolls involved. When our names finally came around, we were back to smiles, cheers, and a great high-five. That was a happy and long lasting memory for me. Logan was always a sweet guy and he and all of our friends had some great times together. My thoughts and love are with his family.

“ Sophear, Maddie and Tia, I am so very sorry for your loss. I remember your dad and the fun we had when the girls were small and Wendy lived across the street. He was a great dad and had so many creative ways to keep your girls and Sophie happy and laughing.

“ Logan and I were fishing (shared photos on Tribute Wall). He wanted to leave so when we were trolling back to dock, I threw I line in the water and all of a sudden, I caught that bass. Logan smiled and said, “Sean let’s stay”. We had a great time. It’s like that fish wanted to get caught so we could spend some more time together. One of my best memories of us just having a great time. -- Sean

“ I only met Logan once and that one time left an impression. I know Sean and Logan were close childhood friends. ❤️ I have fond memories of listening to vinyl records with him at Rob and Stacy’s house. While listening to the music, Logan opened up to me about his father and how important family was to him. Many blessings to Logan and his family. I wish I had the right words, just know I care. ~ Niki
