“ I'll miss you Uncle Mike. So sorry you are gone, but now you can go give them sisters of yours more hell in heaven. You being the youngest of those girls, you had to be in living hell. But, seriously, I'll miss your visits and talking about old times, you and Mom sitting around the kitchen table and picking on each other just like you were kids. RIP

“ I, too, met Mike at the gym, about 5 yrs ago. It was always so nice chatting with him. We had military service and medical backgrounds in common but could find so much more to yak about! I've been missing him for about 3 yrs already as he came to the gym less and less. Mike will still be there because so many people remember him. Thank you, Mike, for being my friend.

“ I was a teenager before I got to know my uncle Mike. After meeting him for the first time, I felt like we had been connected all my life. He had a very gentle and loving tone in his voice. The type that would make me hang onto every word that he would say. I loved listening to his stories about when he was growing up. He was loved by all who knew him. I wish we could have spent more time together.

“ When I was born my uncle was 10 years old, he said he would hurry home from school to rock me in our old rocking chair(which I still have). I would follow him around like a little puppy, he was always there to hold my hand. I know he will be waiting in heaven to hold my hand.
