Minnie Marie Allison, born August 4, 1924, went to be with our Lord on October 28, 2014 at the age of 90 in San Antonio, Texas. She was born in New Castle, Pennsylvania and was the eldest of 4 children. Marie was a Christian Missionary all of her adult life, she taught people of all ages about the bible and spreading God's word, even going overseas to Pakistan for 25 years. When she returned to the U.S. she took on the role of caring for her elderly parents. Marie was a devoted daughter, sister, and aunt. She was a great mentor and always had words of wisdom to share and lots and lots of prayers for anyone that needed one.

Marie wrote books and daily devotionals in her later years until her sight failed, but she always had faith that God would restore her sight so she could continue writing.

A loving, caring, kind hearted woman, a true servant of God, that will be missed by everyone.

Marie was preceded in death by her parents, Earl and Edna Allison, sister Rosemary, sister Doris, brother Donald. She is survived by her niece Alyson John Guerrero and their children Lyndsey and Anthony in San Antonio, nephew Michael Polulech of San Antonio, her close and dear friend Barbara McManus of San Antonio, numerous nieces and nephews and great nieces and nephews of Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Georgia.

A special thanks to the nurses, doctors and staff at Las Colinas of Westover Hills for their excellent care and compassion during this last year.

“ Marie, We lost touch over the years, after my leaving the San Antonio area, with many moves and job changes. You were (and are) always an inspiration to me. YOur generosity with your time and friendship; I miss them both. I am often reminded of your Seed Thoughts and of the many, many seeds you planted. Until we meet again, Love, Robin.
