“ I Married into the Dotson Family years ago through the Williams family. The First time I met Olan, my father-in-law's brother, I knew I had found a long lost Uncle. He from the beginning treated me like one of the family, with kidding and jokes. You see I first met Olan at a Family Reunion and with this family if they did not like you or thought you might not be right for the family they were not above letting you know. Over the next number of years when ever we came to see Jens Family we always would see Uncle Olan and if he was not at home we could find him at Bud Jones. He was the type of man you could learn a lot from but in his teaching he was not above sending you out for a “left handed hammer” or a “sky hook” to keep you on your toes. I'm going to miss him at the Family Reunions, At Thanksgiving when he would join us at Nancy and Harry's or just having a lunch at Bud Jones!
Lord I don't have any warnings for you about this Gentle, Peaceful Soul! If you need something Built or constructed look to this man! But treat him badly He Does Have Brothers and Kin whom might not take kindly, just letting you know! Love you Olan!
