“ Dear Pat ,
You were a dear friend to me! There were countless times when you did little special things for me personally, to lift my Spirit, give me self confidence or just show love. You are one of the few people who welcomed me into your home. I am a better person today because of your kindness.
During Bake Sales at Mission San Jose Church, you were right there with all of us, contributing to the works of the Altar Society for many, many years. I will miss you, my friend. May your Soul forever rest with Jesus Christ in Heaven! God Bless you!
Your Friend,
Hope Evans

“ I loved my Aunt Pat. There are so many memories of her I will always cherish, and to share one memory would be too hard to do. In the last 45 years living in Washington and coming to visit family in Texas my Aunt Pat was someone I always wanted to come and see. She was always welcoming even when we showed up without notice. She got us caught up on family, the new marriage's, the new grand & great grandchildren, looking at the new and old photo's, her soap opera's, her church activities, and later in years her ache's and pains, and the doctor visits. She loved when we went to eat out and sometimes getting to have other family members come too. I liked taking her shopping with her grocery list ready. We both loved reading, and she had her stash of romances books that she'd already read for me to put in my luggage to carry back home. When I needed to be in town to care for my Dad (which happened several different times), I stayed with her in the spare bedroom. This made it convenient for me, but also my aunt was a good source of comfort during this different time. We had more time to talk about her life growing up, how she met my uncle, marriage life, her faith, and just life in general. We also had time to do fun stuff with her like paint her toenails, help put together Easter gifts for the grandchildren, play games on her computer, cooking, and so much more. I will miss you dearly, Aunt Pat.
