“ Today is March 25, 2010 - I still miss Patty so very much. We shared so much fun time there at the last, when we moved to Corpus Christi, she was so caring and did not want to hurt or bother anybody about her not feeling well. She kept it quiet from all of them, so she confided with me and I wanted her to go to the Dr., but she would not, she said, I would not do what he would want me to do. So, unable to talk her into it, she kept quiet and I did not tell anyone about her hurting so very bad. Anyway, she is no longer going through any pain, suffering, and she will be waiting for all those that loved her and she loved. We all talk about how she would love to have known her great grand children as well as all of the grandchildren growing up and especially seeing their daughters achieve in life and she would be so very proud of them. May her memory live on within our hearts and minds. Love to Jesse, Kim, Sunday, Jessika, Stephanie, and Dakota, and all those that knew Patti, especially her sister.

“ Nana, It is going on 8 years that you have left us. The pain is still well alive like a recent open wound. I miss you so much. I am married now to a wonderful man who I know you would have loved. Zylar is so big and he is playing sports. I see you

“ Dearest Nana,

Its been 5 years since the last time I saw you smile, since the last time I got to hold you in my arms, since I could smell you. Oh how I miss you so very much. It still hurts just as much as it did 5 years ago. I regret not saying goodbye
