“ Patty was always quiet and reserved. But she was always attentive and kind to all around her. It was always a treat to see her at family events and see that she was doing well. Patty never complained about anything. She was as contented with everything and everyone around her. She had a knack for making everyone around her feel her warmth and acceptance! I will miss her being around us, talking to her, and her letting us know all is well with her. Rest in peace Patty. ”
