“ I remember when she used to call us almost every week and she asked about the pets and Bridget and then last Saturday she asked my dad if she could get us a chocolate lab , or she always sent us a box of goodies. It was fun because you never knew what was in it . I'll miss not seeing when we go to Texas. Love, Your Queen Bee, Elka

“ Mami, you loved hard; I see that and can appreciate it. You adored your girls and your grandchildren, and deep down, you wanted the best for your family. As a young girl and even early teenager, I knew I could go to your bed when I was scared. I’d go finish out my sleep until the morning with you and you didn’t shame me for it, even as I grew older. I believe you actually found joy in it. In my 20’s when I was feeling a moment of fear, I found you already nestled in bed as I tried to talk my fear away. That night, I stayed with you in my safe place. Now, I pray you are resting peacefully in the safest place made by our Creator. “Honor thy Father and Mother”, my mission for all my days as I pray for your soul. I love you, Mami!

“ I remember meeting Patsy for the first time...was it Pecan Grill? She was lively and feisty, giving it to me from the start....and me feeling comfortable to give it right back to “Maddog.” She was wearing an extra hair piece/addition of some kind...adding a little flavor/color to her ensemble. Regi calling her “Brittany,” poking in jest, comparing her to the pop star of the time. Maddog, may you find peace, God Bless,
