“ I met Paula in 37 years ago when we worked together. We became roommates and friends, and that friendship lasted through the years. She was more than my friend, she was my sister. We always said “You’re the most fun I’ve ever had with a girl.” And we meant it. We had so much fun together over the years. The memories I have of her will last a lifetime. I find it difficult to articulate just how much she meant to me. I have a tremendous amount of love for her. Please don’t be afraid to say her name. Keep her memory alive. It is through doing that the world will keep a small piece of a remarkable woman alive.

“ It was with great sadness to hear that my friend of twenty years at the Lighthouse had passed. The news hit me like one of my family members had passed. I enjoyed working with her coming up with programs and services for state agencies. She will be missed forever..... Vince

My dear friend Paula may she Rest in Peace. It is with great sadness that I just discovered her passing. I knew Paula for 25 and she always made me laugh. We used keep in touch by text and an occasional phone call.

I texted her last month and never heard back from her, so I called her phone and found it was out of service. I just realize this morning that maybe something had happened to this wonderful person.

May she Rest In Peace.

“ My first days in San Antonio began the start of a 6 year professional and deep friendship with a woman who defined dedication to patient care. There was no end to her ability to love beyond herself and live the life of a servant every day. We started with a dream of bringing eye care to the blind and created a monument to Low Vision in America today. We who remain both friends and patients will continue to be touched by her work for many decades to come. I have lost the worldly contact with my friend but her work as my colleague will continue every day there is a need for better vision care.
