“ My most beloved cousins, my condolences to each one of you. I will forever cherish & treasure your being part of my family and life. Please know that my Tia's loss is very heartfelt. May her beautiful memories help to ease the sting and void that remains. May you find some comfort knowing that we are all pilgrims on this earth; Tia's call today by Our Most High is merely a revelation that God was in need of an Angel. We must recognize that he searched the world and found our beloved ready. We are blessed and must also recognize that God makes no mistakes, as he chooses and he takes the very best. We will most certainly miss her dearly, but today we will trust in God.and give her to Our Lord,as our hope is in trusting and await his calling.until the resurrection when we will all meet again.
