“ Richard you will be sore missed, ill miss talking to you about just about anything that would come up or just about what changes were going on in the neighborhood. Even when you passed by my home and I would be outside and you just honk and wave. I will continue to look out for your property as you did mine. God sped my friend and rest in peace.

“ Praying for everyone's heart that's missing this man, I'm thankful for the time he was here and that he's with Laura again. I know him as the father of one of my greatest friends and if your kids are a testament to who you are then Richard and Laura did very well and should be proud because the loving character, connection and togetherness put into their kids never fails to come through. Anyone who's ever lost a parent knows the lasting heartache that their family has endured the past few years and now again. . . If you now or ever think of Richard and Laura, remember their daughters and the families and lives they're leading and be with them at least in prayer. Thank you God for this family. For the incredible love they've grown from and all that is to come.
