Richard loved football (Dallas Cowboys) he could tell you the game score from current and past years without a problem, he rode his bike daily to the store or to buy his favorite pizza making friends along the way. He knew his neighbors up and down the street. On weekends he would ride the bus to the downtown theatre to watch the latest release movies after, going to his favorite place to eat, Hooters. He enjoyed his movies so much that he had an extensive library collection of DVD' s to fill 4 extra large containers. He also loved his cigars and country music. He was so proud that his dad is a marine, he wore a marine cap and fatigues daily. Many times he would be given a "thank you for your service" by strangers and he would say "no I wasn't a marine my dad was" He was so proud of his name Gonzales, so much so that when asked, his name he would always say Gonzales with a "S". Richard was loved his nieces and nephews and he especially loved babies. Gloria would do his errands and shopping when he was no longer able to do so and remembers going to the bank, corner store, cricket store and the clerks knew him by name and ask how he was. Richard was loved by family and friends and will be deeply missed.
