“ I met Rita when I joined Metropolitan Hospital for the first time way back in the early '80s. . At that time she was teaching CPR. My wife met her there as well. She was still there in various capacities and as a trusted colleague whenever I left employment and returned to the hospital. Only recently did we meet up again by joining her and a few of her Metro/Altrusa friends for occasional lunches. These lunches with a trip down memory lane here and there were so nice.

Thank you, Rita, for all you did for my mother. I have been so grateful.

“ My meeting story with Rita Corey!

We knew each other for 33yrs since 1990. Been besties ever since. Met when I was teaching a CPR class at the Methodist hospital she was infection control nurse and was doing a mask "fit testing" on nurses to make sure their mask size was correct and fitted properly if they had to care for tuberculosis patient... I was intrigued with the "astronaut" cardboard and plastic helmet each nurse would put on and then sweet and low would be "shot into" mask with syringe to see if they could "taste" it!

I thought it was funny watching the nurses through their plastic facial window as they moved their faces all around inside it and breathed with their mouth while wearing a N95. The reasoning being...

"N95 respirators offer a higher level of filtration than cloth, surgical or procedural masks. In order to be optimally effective, respirators must be fit-tested and worn properly, tightly fitted against the person's face." I'll love you forever precious "sis"💕

Rita was my friend for well over 40 years. We met when we worked at Lutheran General Hospital & then worked at Metropolitan Hospital. Many fond memories that will keep her with me always. Rita touched so many lives & those of us who knew her were blessed. My thoughts and prayers are with Doug & her family. Rest in peace my dear friend. I'll miss you.

I did not know Rita had passed and was shocked when I heard the news during Mass this morning. Rita has been a faithful attendee of our bible study class for years and I truly cherished her presence and her contributions to our discussion - as well as our many chats after class. I know she had not been feeling well and had missed our last few lessons. I talked to her in late May and she assured me she was feeling better and would be ready for the next study. I am so sad I did not reach out again. I will so miss seeing her on Wednesday mornings and send my prayers and hugs to her family. She is now breathing easily and surrounded by the light of our merciful Father. Rest in peace sweet Rita.
