“ Somerset Bulldogs: 1948: 8-2-0

The season record of 8-2-0 means that the 1948 Somerset Bulldogs won eight games, lost two games and did not tie any team. For six games out of ten we were not scored on by the opposing teams.

In 1948 Coach Ray Martin developed and had us practice again and again a play over tackle with Roger Huizar carrying the ball, designed to make a touchdown on our first play of the game to discourage the opposing team. It worked in several games. Usually I was on the ground after Roger went through the line and I might see him running down field, dodging tackles right and left, and then going over the goal line. He was not the fastest guy on the team, but in open field he was very hard to get a hand on because he could turn quickly and dodge tacklers. " Bernard Pyron, Left Tackle on the 1948 Bulldog Team.
