

Ronas Claudia Mackrell

September 21, 1932 - July 23, 2022

Ronas Claudia Mackrell was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania on September 21, 1932. She was the daughter of Frederick N. Seemiller and Claudia A. Swick, both deceased. Ronas also had two brothers, Ronald and Ardale (Dale), who preceded her in death. On September 18, 1954, she married Roy J. Mackrell in a union that lasted 68 years. Ronas and Roy had 6 children. Three children died in the early stages of their lives, Reid James, Reid John, and Rhonda Lee and she has now joined them in heaven. She is survived by her husband, Roy J. Mackrell, her children Royce, Raymond (Leah), and Regis (Amy). Her 8 grandchildren are Ryan, Reid, Rory, Lauren, Caitlyn, Claire, Riley and Rhett. Ronas grew up in difficult times just after the depression and throughout the war. As a child, she made weekly grocery store trips starting at the age of seven. She would tell us about the steep street she would travel to get to the store. She did this chore until she was married. She would say that her brother Dale would run off to escape getting a chore himself. Ronas was a supportive and loving military spouse, traveling to Germany, France, and Taiwan, as well as other numerous stateside Air Force bases. She loved to hear about her children and grandchildren's activities. She did not miss a baptism, confirmation, graduation, band concert, Christmas show, sports event..etc. We never heard a mean word about others unless politics were discussed. She always made sure you had a place at the table and a plate in front of you. She was always the last to sit down for a meal until everyone had what they needed. When desserts were served, she would have a slide of each that was available. And always asked for a scoop of ice cream on the top. Her pantry was well stocked having backups of backups so she would not run out. She was positive, gracious, and welcoming to all she met. She will be dearly missed.
