

Rosa Maria Milk

March 14, 1947 - October 24, 2020

Rosa Maria Milk passed away peacefully October 24, 2020. She was born in Piura, Peru to Julio Larnia and Angelica Stratti. She met her husband, Robert D. Milk, while working as an elementary school teacher at Tumbes Normal School. After their marriage in 1971, they went to California where their two sons were born. In 1980, her husband became a UTSA professor in San Antonio where they established roots. She earned a Masters Degree and taught for 23 years as a bilingual kindergarten teacher at Burleson Elementary, a national model dual language program in Edgewood ISD. After retiring, she remained active with Hermandad del Señor de los Milagros and became known for her incomparable Peruvian alfajores.

Rosa is beloved for her generous spirit and loving personality. She cherished relationships developed from activities including Tai Chi, Zumba and numerous cultural groups.

In her last few weeks, she was in bedrest and surrounded by loved ones. She expressed happiness watching videos of her six grandchildren and listening to messages from friends and family members in the San Antonio area and worldwide. She was grateful for a tribute article published in the Express News by Elaine Ayala on October 17, the week before her passing:

Rosita is survived by her husband, Robert; two sons, Robbie and Andy; plus 6 grandchildren, Joaquin, Lorenzo, Lucas, Ana Luiza, Matteo and Marcelo.

She will be buried at Mission Park North cemetery. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to her Rosita Larnia Stratti Milk Educational Fund supporting educational causes dear to her heart in Peru.

“ Mrs. Milk was a beautiful person to have worked with. On one of her trips out of the country she brought me a Rosary that to this day I keep it next to my bed. Can't believe she remembered me on her travels. God just received a beautiful Angel. I'll always think of you.
