“ This is Roger Colunga and Roy’s was my brother in law back in the day when Roy and my sister Sylvia were together. I looked up to Roy like a big brother I never had. Anyone that knew Roy knew that he was the coolest dude around and I wanted to be like him. I lived with them in Houston back in 79’ for a few months when my personal live was in a bad place. I got a job as a welder and Roy really showed me how to grow up and he the man that I am today. Roy put my under his wing and straighten me up. Back in San Antonio my wife (Irma) and I would always run into Roy and Gloria at NIOSA. We would revisit the old times and always promised to get together soon. We never did. I will forever remember Roy Valdez for what he did for me. Love you my big brother. Rest In Peace.

“ My name is David Ojeda and went to Burbank in 69-70. During those 2 years I played baseball with Roy in which we won District and bi-District championships. Roy was a key member of our championship team and a team player. I will always remember him funny, witty, and he played baseball enjoying the game and his team mates. Roy you will always be part of me and your name is engraved in my mind and heart. You will always be a Champion to me. I love you man.

David Ojeda, Pitcher and friend.
