“ I was clicking through the internet because I just found out a friend of mine from High School died, and I found out that Mrs. Swope had passed away. She was my General Business teacher at Roosevelt High School. I remember her very well. She was such a kind and fun person. We all enjoyed her class. I doubt very many people know this but, there was a student who was contemplating suicide. I know that Mrs. Swope very quietly, very discreetly intervened. I don't know what happened but he lived. And then I read the obituary, and she became an EMT, and an EMT instructor!!!! Of course, that's just who she was!!! A very special person. May her memory be a blessing to all who knew her.
