

Tammy Jo Walters-Yeoman

August 18, 1961 - September 10, 2020

Tammy Jo Walters-Yeoman was born on August 18, 1961 in Slayton, Minnesota to John Wesley Maddox and Carolyn Ann Bose. A long time resident of San Antonio, Texas was reunited with her father, mother and brothers John and James on Thursday, September 10, 2020. She was employed at Sygma Network as a overnight dispatcher.

Tammy is survived by her children Monica Hernandez, Wesley Walters and Trista Boyd all of Victoria, Texas. Seven Grandchildren; Amber Hailey, Christian Isaac, Katherine Mahala, Camille Mae, Christine Denise, Makinzee Paige and Melanie Ann. Three sisters; Renae (Jerry) Turley of San Antonio, Susan (Travis) Simmons of San Antonio and Debbie Ladwig of Corpus Christi and one brother; Jay (Lisa) Maddox of San Antonio. Nine nephews and three nieces.

Tammy enjoyed spending time with her family and friends, dancing, playing cards and reading books.

A memorial service will be held for Tammy to celebrate and remember her life at a later date.

Tribute Wall

RT

“ Tammy was a small bag of energy, she had so much sprit. And always had an opinion on everything. She had a funny sense humor . And you could see that funny smile she had when she thought of something funny or smart comeback. It's always been Renae, Susan, Debbie Tammy, Jay , and James. And I don't know how to feel with that empty space without her. I'll miss her everyday, I'm glad her children were there for her she was so happy and proud of them. Love you always Renae renae turley - September 18, 2020 at 06:38 AM

S(

“ Tammy was one of Seven children, she was the middle child. She was a great sister. She will be sorely missed. I cant call her anymore on the way home from work. I pray she knows how much she is loved. I am so glad she is now free of pain and will find peace. We will see her again.

Susan Simmons (sister) - September 17, 2020 at 08:12 PM