“ I'm so sorry for the loss of your beautiful Tima. Time will ease your pain and you'll always have your happy memories of her. A scripture that's very comforting is at John 5:28,29 "Do not be amazed at this, for the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out.

Tina there are no words to describe the strength and courage you showed us all. You fought the battle and took everything that ugly cancer gave you, you never gave up. What strength. You weren't ready to go but God needed you and called you home. No more pain or sickness. Tina's family know your mother is always going to be watching over all of you. All she talked about was my children this my grandkids that. You all were what mattered the most. My heart breaks for you. Know that God is with you and your sweet mother is finally at peace. Tina, fly high sweet one. The saying is true (only the good die young). You will be missed ❤️🙏
