“ So sad to have lost such a legend to the neighborhood. Only Mr Itz comes to mind as being in the same league. Already felt the change when he first stopped working on mowers then again when he stopped coming out to the driveway regularly. Now we will have to accept that things at Oak Trail and Ridgerock will never be the same. RIP my buddy, Walt.

“Some 20 years ago, I got a gig producing and directing a play “Barefoot in the Park,” a Neil Simon rom-com from the 1960’s for one night at the Omni Hotel, for an evening of Dinner Theatre. I added two performances in the Fellowship Hall at House of Prayer Lutheran Church for merriment and a little extra cash for the actors. I cast Walt (my Dad) as an older delivery man, who has to climb five flights of stairs and deliver a box from Lord & Taylor’s. Both performances at the church, the door opens to a very big, breathless Delivery Man who’s one and only line is “Lord & Taylor’s”. And there in the doorway, this big guy is heaving and huffing and says “Barnes and Nobles.” 😞😞😞. You’d think I should have fired him based on standards he set for others. But time was limited. I had to trust him. The old man came thru! He delivered a stunning show worthy performance. That was his one and only acting job ever. I love Dad. So very much. But I’ve got years of memories stored in my brain.

“Walt was a great friend for more than 40 years. He was a very kind and caring man but also someone who did not hesitate to provide guidance to others when he felt they were not doing right. He was a man of great integrity and worked hard at whatever he did. He will be missed by me and many others.

“The Cavenders send our love and heartfelt condolences to the Larson Family. Walt was a great leader who inspired honesty, integrity and caring while serving as our Fixed Operations Director at Cavender Oldsmobile.

He came to work everyday with a smile on his face and a song in his heart. His team loved him and he loved them right back. I give thanks for Walt's incredible life and the example he set for us all in this profession.

More importantly, I give thanks for his service to our Lord, who was at the center of Walt and his beloved Barbara's every activity!

Kelly and I send you prayers for peace and healing. May God Bless you all.

With deep sympathy,

Stephen Cavender and the Cavender Family.
