“ I had the great pleasure of meeting Winkiy at Toyota. The first time I met her she was so sweet and she left an impression on me. She made my day every day even on the worst of day. Her smile is contagious and I will miss it, and holding up the line just to talk a little with her and get a hug and giving her a keychain from where ever I had gone. She was a wonderful woman and she will be missed dearly. Work has not been the same without her. My condolences to her family.

Thank you so much for sharing that Amanda Revillas, it truly Means A lot to us and yes My Grandmother always tried her best to have a smile on her face it was the little things in life that Meant the Most to her all she wanted was to feel Noticed appreciated and respected for Her time that she last spent with her loved ones and with Toyota/ aramark and fellow co- workers and believe it or not she has those key chains hanging right on that jewelry Box that shes owned ever since I can remember , so as you can see it only took something so simple that let her know that she was thought of and that meant the world to her so thank you once again for putting that smile on my grandmas face that to me is Priceless .

Sincerely,
Monet Garcia

“ Aunt Winkie was the life of the party; the adventurer; the glue that held the family together. She was always the one who would drop everything, spend her very last dime, reach out and extend every ounce of what little she had, to help, to guide and to offer solace to any of us, in our times of need. She always wanted her family to be together and get together to laugh and remember better days. I can't remember a family function where she wasn't in the middle of it; her and her delicious pies, cakes and salads.

Some of my fondest memories were summers spent between Grannie and Grandpas farm and Aunt Winkie's house. Countless hours spent running us kids around the Southside, for movies, Brackenridge Park, swimming, the zoo, every summer, she made sure we had plenty to do, even though she had been working all morning at the hospital. She often would play with us in her front yard or at the farm when we would play baseball, football or even tennis. She helped me to learn to drive down Grannie's dirt road in that yellow Gran Torino wagon, with all the cousins hanging on for dear life as we each had a turn. She was so much fun when I was a kid. She was so full of life.

Even today, when I think of her, I can hear her infectious laugh. When I picture her in my head, I see her smiling. She was always smiling; always talking about the 'good ole days' and always positive.

I will miss you, Aunt Winkie. Just know, you had a positive impact on my life and you were dearly loved.

Your niece,

Lacy

“ She was my mom she was the most caring person in the world. She loved her kids, loved her grand kids talked to me all the time bout how much she loved the grand babies in her live. She loved all her sisters they were her best friends of course all her nieces and nephews are older now but she always told me stories of the times she would babysit them. Monk ir as we knew her because when grandbaby #1 Monet was just learning how to talk she didn't know whether to call her mom or winkie so she became our Monkie We miss you already Monkie I haven't stopped thinkin bout you and I never will love you
