“ I worked with Noom I installed all his tile in his home we became good friends. I messaged him years back just to catch up but never got a reply I just thought he was busy. I almost stopped by his house this pass week. I'm just finding out this news and it hurts. Noom you're one of the best people I've ever meet big heart so down to earth so creative all around beautiful person. I'm going to miss you friend. Thank you for my first real camera and teaching how to use it. Until we meet again brother your friend Danny Zoo.

“ I worked with Noom several times over the last 1.5 years and although we had only had virtual video meetings, I get like he was a good friend. We laughed a lot and talked about Texas and things we loved. I was looking forward to meeting him in person some day when I was in San Antonio. I just wanted to share how wonderful he was to work with and happy and positive he was. He was a great work buddy and made me feel good about myself every time we talked. I will miss him greatly. He had a large impact in just a little time and few interactions. Condolences and prayers for the family.

“ So sad to be seeing this...I met Noom from a remix collaboration way back in 2013 or so. I didn't get to know him too well, but it was clear that he was a great guy. Crazy coincidence because I was literally just playing the remix that he made for me a few hours ago — I hadn't listen to it in years and I was telling myself how much this track has not aged— and hearing it again, felt like I was hearing it for the first time all over again. I was so grateful for his work, I played his song live at venues across the country. He was a major talent- photographer, musician...surely a whole lot more. Last we spoke was 2018— much too long ago...I wish I got to meet him, but I hope I can connect with some of his friends, fans, and family. RIP Noom. I will miss you. ❤️ Clark aka The Bins

“ Dearest Noom,
It's been a while since we've talked. And maybe I took it for granted that you were around. Or maybe I felt comfort and that the world was ok knowing that you were present.
Yesterday we celebrated your life and said our goodbyes. You probably would have hated it. All of us talking about you...you being at the center of attention.

You have been the brightest light and inspiration to everyone that knew you, no matter how well or for how long.
And what a diverse group of people. And yesterday we came together, united In our love and respect for you.

You can never be replaced. We will always have that hole in our hearts, that emptiness, that void.
But that void and emptiness, while sad, is ultimately so beautiful because we had you for this short amount of earthly time.
All of us that had the privilege are better for it.
Until we meet again - rock on.

“ Noom's energy was unmatched. Every conversation was filled with authenticity and love for life. We would talk for hours at a time about our experiences, good and bad. He wore his heart on his sleeve and was available for anything you needed to get off your chest. He was as real as they come.

I learned a lot from you, Noom. Even when life was heavy, you always managed to be a healer for others just by being around. You were the best type of friend and are still very much alive to me... But I'm really going to miss hearing "whadduup homie" when you answered the phone.

Rest easy, my brother,

“ Brandon Barrieault, Noom and I were all in training together in Austin Texas when we were hired on as Flex Instructors with Apple back in 2015. I spent a lot of time with Noom, talking about his passions in life, and him commonly reflecting on the idea that we "had made it". Noom was an incredibly intelligent man, who had a warm heart that invited so many people into it. He was an artist that captured the essence of life into every one of his photographs. I am so incredibly fortunate to have had him as a friend. The hole that he has left will never be filled, but I will always remember the warmth he had for everyone that he met, and all the connections he built with those around him. I'll miss you brother. I'm so incredibly sorry.

“ Noom was a bright and engaging person to be around. We met as coworkers and parted as friends, and would speak with each other infrequently after I had left that company. He was always friendly, earnest, and familiar when we did, even when talking about tougher things. There was no awkward length of time between conversations, as we could always pick up right where we had left off, which I feel was a notable part of his personality. In many respects he taught me what it looked and felt like to be able to remove barriers when speaking with those you just met. I wish we could have met up again as we had discussed. You will be missed, friend.

“ I meet Noom through my older brother. We got a chance to hang out and talk. Based off of his energy he was instantly family. He was the coolest down to earth friend you were honored to have in your corner! It doesn't seem real. He will be deeply missed!

“ Noom was a compassionate man who always put others ahead of himself. We met at a 311 party where the message is always positivity and unity. Noom exhibited those qualities daily. I miss you, my friend. I'll miss our adventures and I'll always have you in my heart. Rest peacefully Noom.

“ Noom was a wonderful guy who brought an awesome energy to everything he was involved in. I'll especially miss talking to him about new 311 music. I was looking forward to the day we could sync up in Sacramento and see a show together. My deepest condolences to his close friends and family. He will not be forgotten.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Noom through photography of our favorite band, 311. He was an outstanding photographer, but more importantly an incredible friend. He would always greet me with a huge hug and smile. He helped me become a better photographer. Our lives are more rich for having had him in it. You are dearly, dearly missed by people all over this world, Noom. May your soul be at rest. We will always miss you.

“ Noom was much more than a co-worker to me, he and I were very close friends, spending countless hours on FaceTime over the 8 years we've been working together. We never met in person but he was going to shoot 311 concerts in Ohio next month and stay with us. I'm sad we didn't get to have that time together and I'll miss his friendship and commitment to our relationship that we had for so long. ”
