“ Our Deepest Condolences to the Huerta family from Ana Venegas Wells, Hal Wells, Noah Wells and Jackson Wells.
Zulema Huerta blessed the Venegas family by raising our dear brother-in-law Eugene Huerta. She raised a devoted son, loving father to his wife and family and a great human being who has been there for his siblings and parents at their time of greatest need. I recall Zulema throwing big family gatherings and her attentiveness in making sure everyone was enjoying the gathering, having the best imaginable food and making sure her family stayed close and intact. I always admired her remarkable way of nurturing her family and providing an example of great love and dedication to those she loved.

“ Zulema was my mother in law. She was a loving mother to her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. She was a great cook that taught me to make mole, thanksgiving dinner, enchiladas, carne guisada and the best tamales!. She lives on in our lives as we continue to enjoy her recipes and memories of her life. We miss you Zulema! Leticia Huerta

“ I only knew Zulema as great grandma, and she absolutely was the greatest. Never was there a dull moment at Zulemas house hold, and some of the best home cooked meals, I can remember as a child. I felt safe and loved in her arms. And now great grandpa has called for her to dance in heaven. R.I.P
